-Picayune

ional Gateway Since 1837

CLEAR
to partly cloudy, a slow warming trend, northeasterly coastal winds at 15-30 knots, gradually diminishing and becoming variable at 8-18 knots at night, is the forecast for Louisiana and South Mississippi. Weather map, details, Sec. 1, Page 22.

FINAL STATE EDITION

MORNING, NOVEMBER 10, 1968 | Second-Class Postage Paid at New Orleans, La. | SINGLE COPY 20 CENTS

KILL NIXON PLOT CHARGES FACE YEMENI FATHER, SON

Police, Secret Service Seize Men in N.Y.

NEW YORK (AP) — A Yemeni father and his son were arrested Saturday night and charged with conspiracy to murder President-elect Richard M. Nixon.

Authorities said another son was being sought for questioning. They said he jumped out a window to evade police.

City police and Secret Service agents seized the two men in their neat apartment in Brooklyn's East New York section after an anonymous tip set off an afternoon-long investigation that ended with the arrests about 6:30 p.m.

In the apartment, police said they found an M1 Army rifle and a carbine, 24 .30-caliber shells for the weapons, two switchblade knives and an oriental-style carving knife.

Police said they found the son, mustachioed Abdo Ahmed Namer, 20, at the apartment when they arrived. As they were leaving, the father, Ahmed Rageh Namer, 46, walked in, police said.

Police also questioned two of Namer's nephews but no charges were placed against them.

RECORDS REVEALED

According to police records, the elder Namer came here 13 years ago from Yemen, a small Arab country in the Mideast, but never took out American citizenship. His son arrived two years ago, police said. They had lived in Rada, a village of 3,500 population in the south of Yemen.

During his presidential campaign, Nixon several times endorsed vigorous American support for Israel in its disputes with Arab countries. He once said that it was important that America help Israel maintain its military superiority in the Middle East.

The conspiracy to murder charge against the Namers is a state charge, not a federal one. They also were charged with criminal solicitation in the first degree and possession of weapons. The solicitation charge involves recruiting others to act in concert in an illegal act, police said.

Cont. in Sec. 1, Page 3, Col. 3

Continued from Page 1

However, details of the alleged plot were not disclosed.

The arrests were first disclosed by Elliott Golden, acting district attorney in Brooklyn. He said only that the arrests were made in East New York, which is a Negro slum.

The Secret Service, charged with guarding presidents, immediately confirmed the arrests and said they were made on warrants issued by Golden's office.

In Key Biscayne, Fla., where Nixon was vacationing, Ron Ziegler, Nixon's press side, said: "I know not a thing about it."

Golden commended the New York Daily News for keeping information of the incident secret until the arrests were made.

At the Miller Avenue police station, detectives described Abdo Namer as "very surly."

The father wore a black fedora, brown striped sweater, a white shirt open at the collar, black trousers and black, shined loafers. He wore a gold ring on his right hand.

His son wore black pants, white shirt open at the collar, brown loafers and a black zippered jacket. He also wore a gold ring.

The father appeared to have a better command of English than his son, police said.